REPUBLICANS HOLD A LIVELY CONVENTION.

The Republicans of Breckinridge county held a lively convention at Harboursburg last Saturday. It was the "outs" against the "ins." The "outs" seem to have had the best of the fight, as they carried everything with a whoop. The "outs" claim that they are getting tired of being dominated by the revenue and post-office elements and want a little say themselves about the organization of the party, even if they can't have it about the revenue offices.

The first fight came up over the election of a temporary chairman. Mr. Allen R. Kinchelo, the present county chairman, was put up by the "ins" and the Hon. Chas. Blanford was the champion of the "outs." Mr. Kinchelo called the convention to order promptly at 3 o'clock p. m. Dr. E. P. Rodgers, of Askins, in a highly complimentary and enthusiastic speech, presented the name of Mr. A. R. Kinchelo. Judge Abi seconded the nomination. The judge was enthusiastic for his man and his party and called on his friends to do their duty as became good Republicans, who loved their party, their president and their country.

Mr. W. Sherman Ball was the spokesman of the "outs" and when he put in nomination the Hon. Chas. Blanford for the place the applause was immense and showed how the convention stood. The vote was put by Dr. Rodgers and resulted in the nomination of the Hon. Chas. Blanford.

Mr. Blanford took the chair and made a stirring speech for Roosevelt and Republicanism.

The Hon. R. M. Jolly was chosen Secretary.

Mr. Allen R. Kinchelo moved that the chair appoint two committees of five each, one on delegates and one on resolutions. Mr. Sherman Ball offered an amendment to the resolutions. It was that the chair appoint a committee of three on delegates and resolutions. The amendment prevailed and the chair appointed the following committee: Capt. J. H. Rowland, W. J. Hall and W. S. Ball. The committee retired and returned with the following report, which was unanimously adopted:

Resolved, that we, the Republicans of Breckinridge county, in convention assembled unreservedly commend the wise and patriotic administration of President Roosevelt and heartily endorse him for the nomination for President, and recommend that the delegates from the Fourth congressional district be instructed to cast their votes for him in the National convention.

We present to the consideration of the district convention, to be held at Harboursburg May 2, the name of John P. Haswell, Jr., of this county, as a candidate for delegate to the National convention, to be held at Chicago, and endorse and recommend his candidacy to the Republicans of the Fourth District. And our delegates are instructed to cast their votes for him as long as his name shall be before the convention, to vote on every question and nomination among them in such a manner as will promote his candidacy and secure his selection as such delegate using every honorable means to attain that end.

The convention up to this time had comparatively smooth sailing. It seemed an snag, however, when Mr. Jesse R. Eskridge offered the following resolutions:

Be it resolved that the delegates of this county be instructed to vote for a resolution in the district convention instructing the delegates chosen to the district convention to vote for the Hon. John W. Yerkes for National Committeeman.

Mr. Ball was on his feet in an instant and raised the point of order that the resolution was out of order, that it should have to be placed before the committee on resolutions and acted on by them. This brought on a lively debate. Those speaking for the resolution were A. R. Kinchelo, Dr. Rodgers, Hon. R. M. Jolly and Judge Wm. Abi. Those opposed were Mr. Ball, Mr. Royalty and several others. The chair put the vote on the resolution and it was lost.

Those opposed to the resolution said they had no objection to Mr. Yerkes, but it was the crowd that was trying to boost him and carry everything by storm. In other words, Mr. Royalty said "that the party in this county were getting tired of being ruled by the revenue gang."

It was a pretty warm conversation in the way of words. After the fight was over they all shook hands and held a love feast over Roosevelt.

Delegates Appointed.

The following delegates were appointed to attend the district convention at Harboursburg and the State convention at Louisville: Chas. Blanford, W. J. Piggott, R. M. Jolly, D. C. Haron, W. S. Ball, G. D. Shellman, H. M. Beard, Jno. P. Haswell, Jr., A. R. Kinchelo, Hock Pile, Sam Bassett, Crit Hamblen, Wm. Bead, Jno. M. Butler, Burrell Whittinghill, Dr. Rodgers, W. J. Hall, Capt. J. H. Rowland, Joe Fitch, Frank P. Payne, S. A. Pate, John B. Bates, Geo. Gray, Jesse R. Eskridge.

Haswell Has Fair Chance

Hon. J. P. Haswell, Jr., of Harboursburg, has a fair chance of being selected as delegate to the National convention at the Fourth district convention at Harboursburg, on Saturday, but also the majority of the delegates at the Harboursburg convention, at which he was present, and the instruction of "Mende county in his favor."

Flat Fight at Harboursburg.

At the Republican convention at Harboursburg Saturday about five blows were exchanged between N. B. Chambers, one of Franks' revenue men, and E. C. Vance, the former being considerably worse, although Vance bled considerably. In answer to a strong speech by Mr. Vance against the "revenue" tactics of the revenue men, Chambers charged that Vance was turned out of the postoffice for forging an order. Vance resented the assertion and the two men rushed together.

Results in the State.

Returns from out in the State indicate the election of W. O. Bradley, of Louisville, John W. Yerkes, of Danville, Richard P. Ernst, of Covington, and George W. Long, of Madisonville, as delegates to the National Convention from the State-at-large. Jordan Jackson, a negro from Fayette county, may get a place instead of Mr. Long. Former Gov. Bradley led in the number of instructed votes. Yerkes followed, second: Ernst, third.

J. A. EVERETT ADDRESSES FARMERS IN THIS CITY.

J. A. Everett, National President of the American Society of Equity, made an interesting talk about the objects of the Society at Oene's Hall, Saturday evening, to the farmers and business men of this city and vicinity. In response to many letters received at Indianapolis, Ind., the headquarters of the Society, Mr. Everett came to Western Kentucky to speak in its interest and organize local unions. Before coming to this city Mr. Everett spoke at Morgantown, Dixon, Henderson and Owensboro. At these places he was greeted with enthusiasm by the farmers and the newspapers in the sections he visited devoted much space to praising the merits of the Society and urging all farmers to join it. This city was Mr. Everett's last speaking point in the State and the trip was the first of the kind he has made since he founded the Society. Besides being the originator and president of the American Society of Equity, Mr. Everett is the editor of Up-To-Date Farming, the official paper of the Society.

Mr. Everett's Speech.

Mr. Everett was introduced by E. B. Oglesby, a prominent local organizer of the Society. He did not speak as a fluent orator but in a plain, business-like manner. By request he gave special attention to the tobacco question.

There is no reason, said Mr. Everett, why the farmers should not be independent against the tobacco trust. When all farmers have organized, he said, it will be the greatest union in the world and, organized as a class, it can do anything it wants.

It is wonderful to contemplate the growth of the American Society of Equity since its foundation sixteen months ago, said Mr. Everett. It now has 100,000 members, who reside in every state in the union and in Canada also. One year ago it had about 25,000 members. At this rate Mr. Everett predicted that it will have 500,000 members by the end of 1904. "We are working for 1,000,000 members," said Mr. Everett. "but 1,000,000 is not the limit. There are about 8,000,000 farmers in the country. We will organize until we have 8,000,000 yes, 10,000,000 members. But with 1,000,000 we can accomplish anything we want to."

The plan of the Society is simple and made for business, said Mr. Everett. There are two features, the national union and the local, between which there is direct communication. There are no state or county organizations. There are no politics in it. The object of farmers societies in the past was to tear down other kinds of business to a level with the farming business. The object of the American Society of Equity, said Mr. Everett, is to build up the agricultural industry, to make farming the best profession of all, a profession which the town people will go into the country to seek.

The farmer has first in his possession the stuff which all other classes haven't got and must have. All the society expects its members to do to secure profitable prices on their products, said Mr. Everett, is to control the market; let the demand come out to the farm and seek the supply and the supply seek the demand, as in the old war. In the old way he said, the supply was dumped on the demand and covered it up, making it a club with which to beat down prices and letting other classes than the farmer control and manipulate the market.

In speaking of the don't expressed by some as to the farmers "sticking" together, Mr. Everett asked that he be shown a man who would not stick to that which makes him money, as he knows the Society will eventually do. Mr. Everett spent several minutes in telling what the Society has already done for the farmers of this country. About a year ago, he said, the Society told the American farmer that his wheat was worth one dollar a bushel. This was published as news through the papers of the country and attracted much attention. The object was to make the demand look for the supply and put wheat up to one dollar while it was in the hands of the farmers. This plan failed for several months but the Society kept it up and, last February dollar wheat was reached. To prove that the Society, through the farmers, put this price on wheat, Mr. Everett stated that once wheat or real wheat was five or ten cents above speculative wheat, in February, and the speculators were continually trying to bear the market. This one act on the part of the Society was worth millions of dollars to the farmers of the country, said Mr. Everett. Many farmers had held their wheat crop until the Society got the price up to a dollar and then sold at a profit. Not only this, but the action of the Society and its result now and the effect of holding up the price on corn, oats, potatoes and other commodities.

Mr. Everett said it could be done with wheat why could not the Society do it with tobacco. Tobacco, he said, is the most necessary luxury in the country and, if those people who use it couldn't get it for less than four times the present price, they would have it even then. The Society is not antagonistic to the Tobacco Trust, he said, but only wants to tell the farmers how to put their own price on their tobacco. He said that the Tobacco Trust could just as well pay the farmers of Kentucky more for their tobacco, because they could add the amount to the consumer's end of the transaction, who would pay it in order to get his favorite luxury. He said he could not explain why the Trust does not pay the farmers of Kentucky more for their tobacco, unless on the theory that corporations have no souls. The Society, he said, has the most excellent system of crop reporting in the country. From the local unions reports are sent to the national union as to the quality and size of the tobacco crop. By these reports the minimum or equitable price for the whole country is fixed and sent back to each member through the official paper. At present, Mr. Everett said, the Society will not put a price on tobacco, but will do so later. When the Society has a million members and states to the Tobacco Trust its price on tobacco it will have to buy at that price or not at all. Mr. Everett declared that there is an over-production of tobacco and stated that when the farmers put their own price on the crop the demand will readily seek the supply. As with the tobacco crop so with all other farm products, when the proper time arrives. Already, he said, the agitation over the tobacco question throughout the State by the American Society of Equity and independent unions has had the effect, lately of bringing up the prices on the crop.

The speaker made it clear how the

bettement of the farmers' condition

through the Society will benefit all other kinds of legitimate business, and that the Society is antagonistic to none. It will help to maintain the integrity of the banker's investment; it will enable the physician to collect better fees and more readily than formerly—and so on. All classes, said Mr. Everett, will help the farmers to organize when they fully understand the movement.

Mr. Everett said that the farmers should not depend too much on Congress for relief, at present, but should give their attention to organizing until they had a million members, when Congress should be compelled to listen to their demands and they could get anything they wanted, by reason of their great power.

Mr. Everett spoke briefly but in a sensible way about independent organizations of tobacco growers, which have sprung up all over the State in the past few weeks. It is a piece of folly, he said, to form such organizations even if they cover the whole State, unless they join the national union. He said that the independent tobacco growers' organization is much less powerful than the national union and for this gave two reasons. The independent organization is working for a profitable price on tobacco alone in Kentucky. In this, there is danger of neglecting other crops and overlooking one crop. The national organization is working for profitable crops and will not overvalue any one of them. Again, the tobacco growers in the national organization, when seeking legislation in their behalf, are more powerful than an independent organization of tobacco growers.

After Mr. Everett had finished talk-

HEALTH is the Most Important

In buying food-products, several things are to be thought of—i. e., Economy, Results, Easy Handling, Reliability, but the most important is Health.

Health means everything. In buying clothes, shoes, hats, furniture, etc., if the buyer is deceived and gets an imitation the only harm is loss of money. In buying food-products, if imitations are supplied, there is not only a loss of money, but perhaps an injury to health—which is beyond price.

Remember these facts when buying baking powder.

ing a number of questions were asked by some of his audience. The most important was, "How can a man hold his tobacco for a better price when he is not able to do so?" In answer, Mr. Everett said that the movement proposed by the Society might not work out perfectly right at first, because the days of miracles is past. He said he expected a few farmers will have to deliver their crop at once. But there are many who will not have to sell at once and these will make a better market, eventually, for those who can't hold at all. In a short time, as will be readily seen, all will be able to hold their crops until the proper time to market them."

To Whom Credit is Due.

To Messrs. T. E. McGavock and E. B. Oglesby, local A. S. of E. enthusiasts and organizers, is credit due for Mr. Everett's visit to this city. Mr. Everett had appointments to speak at Morgantown, Dixon, Henderson and Owensboro only. When Mr. Oglesby heard that Mr. Everett was to be at the above cities, he wrote a letter at once to Mr. Everett and urgently requested him to speak in this city or at Harboursburg while on his present trip. On last Friday afternoon Mr. McGavock went to Owensboro and, in person, added his request to that of Mr. Oglesby. He persisted in his efforts until he made Mr. Everett believe it was his duty to come this city. After Mr. Everett spoke at Owensboro Friday afternoon he was accompanied by Mr. McGavock to this city on the accommodation train. While in the city he was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Oglesby. He left for his home at Indianapolis on Sunday morning.

Vividly Described.
The reporter from whose account of a fire the following is quoted must himself, says the representative of a rival journal, have been in great danger of being consumed by the fire of his own eloquence.

"The water seemed to spur the fire to wilder deeds. The flames and the smoke rolled higher and higher, and the scene became luridly, as fully magnificent, beyond tottering words power to paint. It was a cento of Dante's 'Inferno' acted in all its fiery pomp and splendor. Flumes of flame would now be waved out by quick, snaking bands, then ten million curling little pennons of the fire would billow and flutter, then vanish, and a great reeling tower of smoke, whose darkness was stilled and spanned with flames and sparks, would fill the buildings, grimly shoot back from roared, utterances in crimson greeting, and up in the far off sky the outlandish stars turned pale for shame and the moon through the drifted smoke glowed like a ball of blood."

A Missouri Nephew.
There are some pretty fair Nimrods in Missouri now, but a story which is printed in an old history of Callaway county shows that some of those of former days could make contemporary sportsmen look like 30 cents either as shots or as raconteurs. "Mr. Chas. W. Tate," according to this history, "says that the wild pigeons were so plentiful one summer that frequently when they would alight on a tree he would bend down to the ground and pick them up. He went hunting one day, and seeing a fine lot of pigeons in a tree he lifted his horse to one of the limbs and fired and killed one at one shot. The rest flew away, and as soon as the tree was relieved of their weight it straightened up, carrying his horse with it, and the poor brute had to hang there until Tate could go home and get an ax and cut the tree down."—Kansas City Journal.

The Indian and a Gas Furnace.
Just before he began to be hanged in Pawnee one of the Osage leaves visited Bartlesville and got his first glimpse of a gas fire. All he could see in the above was a pile of red bricks, through the crevices of which the blue flames were curling. He said nothing, but before starting home he went to the yard and bought a lot of brick and hauled them home. He burned up six boxes of matches and all the dry wood his wife had cut trying to get the bricks to burn and finally hauled them back to Bartlesville and told the yard man they were no good.—Pawnee Okla. Capital.

The Throbbers.
The Throbbers are not beautiful. How could they be when, by their own confession, the national money runs back to the king of the money bags and a hakeeb? "Tombol says of them, 'The very horses are better looking.' The type is midway between the L-kino and the Chinese. Broad, flat noses, without visible bridge; to eyebrows, wide mouth, full lips, old skin, hair as coarse and straight as iron-wire, and short, square, manly figures—these are the elements of the unpleasant picture."

Talkative English.
Here is a story that comes from London and illustrates the peculiarities of the American boy: The youngster was at the Hotel Cecil, and he listened intently to a group of English folks. Suddenly he looked up at his mother. "Say, ma, do these people talk English?" "Certainly they do, my child. What a question?" "Then we don't," said the mother.

An Old Testament Verse.
The twenty-first verse of the seventh chapter of Ezra in the Old Testament contains all the letters of the alphabet. "And I, even I, Artaxerxes the king, do make a decree to all the treasurers which are beyond the river, that whatsoever Ezra, the priest, the scribe of the law of the God of heaven, shall require of you, it be done speedily."

The English Husband.
A poor woman in a London parish was consulting me in connection with her domestic troubles, and there was some doubt as to whether her marriage was a legal one, inasmuch as her "husband" (as she had just discovered appeared to have a wife living from whom he had separated. The woman's pathetic inquiry was, "If he is not my husband, what right has he to knock me about?"—A Clergyman in London Spectator.

Nature's Sweet Restorer.
Blessings on him who invented sleep, the balm that covers all human thoughts, the food that appeases hunger, the drink that quenches thirst, the fire that warms the cold that makes men lean and lively, the general tonic that purges all ills, the balme and ointment that equals the shepherd with the long and the simple with the wise.—Cervantes.

A Blenheim.
Mrs. Norton in her store told me this story, but some person has been scribbling on it. "Salome"—but, madam, that is the artist's signature. Mrs. Norton said, "He's got his nerve. Still, I guess you could scratch it out, couldn't you?" Pick.

Values.
All long known values, even a mere window fastener or a particular deer fetch, have sensibly which are a sort of recognized value to use a value that will thrill and awe when it has been used to touch deep lying fibers.

Not Compulsory.
"Tell me, colonel," asked the high-toned, in politics, addressing the high-toned statesman, "can a politician be honest?" "I suppose so, my lord," replied the veteran, "but still it isn't necessary."—Collier's Weekly.

DEATH COMES TO MRS. S. A. HOOK. EVERETT'S ADDRESS.

Hardinburg, Ky., April 26. (Special).—Mrs. Sarah A. Hook, widow of the late George Hook, and mother of the present County Court Clerk, Wm. F. Hook, died at her home at this place last Friday night. Her fatal illness was of about three weeks' duration. She suffered much but bore it all with Christian fortitude and resignation. The funeral was conducted from the M. E. Church, South, on the following day, the Rev. W. F. Howard officiating at the services. A large number of the relatives and friends were present.
 Mrs. Hook was a life-long member of the Presbyterian church, and a devoted Christian woman. She was possessed of a strong character and exercised a wide influence throughout the community in which she lived. More may not be said of anyone. Besides her children Mrs. Hook leaves many relatives who sincerely mourn her loss, but not as those without hope, such a life is an inspiration to all and its influence will be felt for years yet to come.

GOOD ROADS MEETING.

In answer to the letter published below, Mr. Blanford suggests and urges that all good roads men in Breckenridge county meet at Hardinsburg on May 9 and carry out the suggestions in the letter, as near as possible. The letter is as follows:

Mattingly, Ky., Apr. 23, 1901, Hon. Chas. Blanford, Breckinville, Ky., Dear Sir: I have been solicited by a good many to write to you and ask your advice and counsel in regard to getting up a movement to macadamise our public roads. It is suggested that you call a meeting at Hardinsburg on the first day of May court and appoint a man in each magisterial district to circulate a petition to compel the county court to order an election, whether or not we will issue bonds in sufficient amount to trampole our roads. Hoping this will meet your approbation, I am
 Yours truly,
 Dr. Wm. Howard.

Deafness cannot be cured by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube gets inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.
 We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that can not be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

HAS NARROW ESCAPE.

When the Louisville & Evansville packet Tarascon arrived here yesterday morning on her down trip, she, and probably her crew and passengers, had had a very narrow escape from destruction. About 4 o'clock yesterday morning, as the Tarascon was near Concordia, fire broke out in the cook house and the flames spread quickly. The crew was prompt to respond, to the "alarm" of fire and the blaze was extinguished as it reached the hurricane deck. Prompt action alone saved the boat, as ten minutes' more start for the fire would have no doubt resulted in her total loss.

PARKER AND HIS JUDAS.

(From the New York Sun.)

Within the last few weeks Judge Parker has become a considerable figure in the eyes of the whole country and in the expectations of the Democracy that his friends have hoped and his enemies have feared, that he might emerge from the baleful shadow of his evil genius, David B. Hill. The survival of such a Hill has been made possible only by the decadent and degenerate condition of his party, the same condition which accounts for all the other phenomena of disorder and disrepair which now afflict it. The man who never had a friend but he betrayed him and who never served his party but to wreck it, can be safely trusted to discharge for Judge Parker the only function for which nature has only qualified him. When the whole country is violently looking for a man whose political creed is founded on the Constitution, who believes in obedience to the law as fully as he does in the enforcement of the law, for a man in whom the elements of common honesty and patriotism are not completely subordinated to a selfish and dishonorable ambition, Hill is a man whose candidacy is to disfigure the campaign, Judge Parker, as an unworthy demagogue and a dishonest charlatan.

Judge Parker has several times handed down decisions in favor of the law, and so far these decisions have come to our notice, they have been characterized by a good deal of common sense and a plain, straightforward interpretation of the law. They have been decisions of an honest judge and an impartial jurist. According to Hill, they have been decisions which should command the admiration and ensure the fealty of every laboring and social reformer in the country. He desires it to be understood distinctly that Judge Parker has been willing to prostitute the bench to the demands of labor, and by inference that in the White House he will be equally subservient and can be trusted to entice Mr. Roosevelt or any other candidate of any party in his solicitude for organized labor.

We have been wholly unable to find anything in Judge Parker's decisions which explains this anxiety on the part of Hill to construe them. They are the plain-sensible and rather obvious opinions of a man who, we have described them to be, and nothing more. Neither Judge Parker's enemies nor his friends can make any political capital out of them. They simply reveal him as an honest and conscientious man and to that, nowadays, no sort of political importance or significance attaches, anywhere.

Washington, April 24. Over-Work Weakens Your Kidneys.

Unhealthy Kidneys Make Impure Blood.

All the blood in your body passes through your kidneys once every three minutes. The kidneys are your blood purifiers; they filter out the waste or impurities in the blood. If they are sick or clogged, or if they fail to do their work, the blood is impure. Faint, aches and rheumatism come from excess of acid in the blood due to neglected kidneys.

Kidney trouble causes quick or uneasy heart beats, and makes one feel as though they had heart trouble, because the heart is overworking in pumping back, kidney-poisoned blood through veins and arteries. It used to be considered that only urinary troubles were to be traced to the kidneys, but now modern science proves that nearly all constitutional diseases have their beginning in ill kidneys in the blood.

If you are sick you can make no mistake by first doctoring your kidneys. The mild and the extraordinary efficacy of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases of all druggists in the world.

Get a sample bottle by mail. Name of Swamp-Root, free also pamphlet telling you how to find out if you have kidney or bladder trouble. Mention this paper when writing Dr. Kilmer & Co., Birmingham, N. Y.

Do not mistake any other Swamp-Root. Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the address, Birmingham, N. Y., on every bottle.

The announcement of the death of General Adair, which was made Tuesday morning, came as one of the greatest surprises and shocks the community ever sustained. The end came suddenly. He was at the pump sewing strap, when he was stricken with vertigo, resulting from stomach trouble. It is thought. Physicians were called, but he passed away in about an hour.

The funeral occurred Wednesday at 2 p. m. from his residence, burial in the Haverhill cemetery, the services being conducted by Rev. E. R. Bennett and H. Smith, of the public schools, which were held in the afternoon. The active pallbearers were chosen from the attorneys and court officers, with whom he had been turned all his life and the funeral was one of the largest ever seen here.

David Lafayette Adair was born at Elizabethtown, Ky., in 1824, therefore was nearly 80 years old. At the age of 14 he came to Hancock county and has resided here practically ever since. He served all through the war with Mexico in 1847-8 and there gained his title of General. In 1850 he was married to Miss Sarah A. daughter of William Stewart. Besides his wife, there is left to survive him the following children: W. S. A prominent newspaper man of Ft. Worth, Texas; Jno. S., cashier Bank of Stephenson and former judge Hancock county; C. C., Cashier Bank of Folsville and capitalist; Mrs. My Whitworth and Misses Eliza and Dora Adair, all of whom are at home, and the latter being postmistress of Haverhill.

Anything like an adequate presentation of the life and character of Gen. Adair in the space of this short newspaper article would be out of the question. In brief he was a kindly, generous hearted citizen, who, probably, was never appreciated at his true worth. We never remember to have met and conversed with a man of such general information and deep learning as he. He was a master of the sciences. He was a lawyer, jurist, naturalist, mineralogist, teacher in the deep sense, student, thinker, horticulturalist, journalist, civil engineer and soldier. He filled positions of honor in Hancock county, but nearly always by appointment. He was not a success as a candidate, since the willies of the demagogue and shrewd conduct as was necessary to insure success in such a campaign to his many make up. In fact practical politics was disgusting to him, although he was broad and deep in his views on public questions.

We do not expect to see another like him in our time. May his soul rest in peace.

Resolutions on the Death of Gen. Adair.

At a special meeting of the resident members of the Hancock Circuit Bar held in the city of Haverhill on Wednesday, April 20, 1904, the following resolutions were unanimously adopted:

Whereas It has pleased Divine Providence to summon to the Bar of Heaven's Chancery the soul of the Nestor of our bar:

Therefore, be it resolved, That in the death of Hon. D. L. Adair this community has lost an honest, upright, courageous, learned and patriotic citizen, who, whether in the midst of his own family circle, around the fireside of his friends and neighbors, or in the place of honor and profit he has so capably filled, was at all times, under all circumstances so far as the frailty of mere flesh beings would permit, the CHEVALIER HAYARD SANS PEUR ET SANS REPACHE.

That our bar leaders to the family of our deceased brother in this hour of their deepest gloom heartiest condolence, and if more words can soothe such grief as must be theirs, we would bid them look up and feel that "Above the stars there is rest."

Resolved, further That these resolutions of the Hancock Circuit Court and copies of them be furnished to the county press and the family of the deceased.

HOW TO BECOME BEAUTIFUL

To Perfect Your Figure.

A famous physician, in speaking of health, beauty, and a good figure, said:

"In my experience many American women have not the strength to take up outdoor sports, many lack the inclination for active physical exertion, household cares or office work—they feel languid, tired and worn-out by the weaknesses so common to their sex. Some women have household duties which keep them shut up at home. For all such persons I should advise a few simple daily exercises, with light dumbbells, devoting only ten minutes of the day to it at first, and gradually increasing it until they find that their whole being is stimulated and strengthened by it. If the young girl—or the matron—is troubled at certain periods with irregularity, weakening drains, and backache—perhaps faint and dizzy spells—then she should take something medicinal to correct these faults. Nothing could be better than a prescription which Dr. R. V. Pierce used in his large practice for many years, in the diseases of women. This "Favorite Prescription" of Dr. Pierce has had an immense sale for the past thirty-six years, because of its uniform success in the cure of women's diseases, and because of the many thousand women who have attested to its merit. Being made entirely of extracts of roots and herbs, without alcohol, it is perfectly harmless to the most delicate system, and the best ready-to-hand remedy in the market."

"To insure perfect health, every tissue, bone, nerve, tendon, or muscle should take from the blood certain materials for its nourishment and growth. Every organ must have its period of activity and of rest, so as to circulate the vital fluid in a proper manner to nourish every part. This is why I believe in advising every woman to take gentle exercise out of doors or indoors. If the functions are not regular or the pains are severe then she should at once use a reliable remedy."

Mrs. A. BELYEA, of Rockland, New Brunswick, said:

"I suffered more than a year from nervousness and functional derangement. Had pains in the left side of abdomen all the time. Some days could hardly get around. Kept my bed about half the time. I wrote to Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., and got his advice for which I have ever been thankful. I began taking 'Favorite Prescription' right away as he advised. It makes me sleep well at night which I never did before, and I feel rested. Can truthfully say Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription has cured me."

Mrs. O. O. SCRIPTURE, of Prescott, Arizona, said:

"I was unable to express how grateful I am for what Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription has done for me. For nearly ten years I was a great sufferer with ulcerations and sickness peculiar to women. I doctored for several years; got no better until I began taking the 'Prescription.' Now I can stand on my feet and work hard all day. I feel that life is worth living, and shall always recommend Dr. Pierce's medicines."

Smith Talks About Hearst.

Washington, April 22.—W. R. Hearst's first public utterance since his election to Congress was made this morning before the Judiciary Committee of the House in behalf of his nomination, and that certain information in reference to the anti-trust bill combination be transmitted to Congress. Mr. Hearst was requested by the committee to speak, otherwise he would not have done so.

Representative Smith, of Kentucky, a member of the committee, said: "Mr. Hearst made a fair statement before the committee, but not one of any strength. He is not a strong man in any sense of the word, and his appearance did not change my opinion of his ability."

Robbed the Grave.

A startling incident is narrated by John Oliver of Philadelphia, as follows: "I was in an awful condition. My skin was almost yellow, eyes sunken, tongue coated, pain continually in back and sides, no appetite, growing weaker day by day. Three physicians had given me up. Then I was advised to use Electro Bitters; to my great joy, the first bottle made a decided improvement. I continued them for three weeks and am now a well man. I know they robbed the grave of another victim. No one should fail to try them. Only 50 cents guaranteed, at Short & Haynes drug store."

It is a woman's duty to keep her good looks as long as she can and good figure is a most important part of them. A pretty face is all very well—there are few women who would not be willing to yield a virtue or two to possess a charming countenance, but it loses a great deal if it is set on top of a badly cared for, badly carried figure. When a woman gets toward the point where youthful charms are forsaking her, it is a boon to her and to those about her if she has well made, well borne form. And the possession of this is within her own power.
